Dear

Dr. Khoirul Hidayah, SH, MH (Chief Editor),

We wish to submit an original research article entitled “Does Islamic Philanthropy Institutions Can Achieve SDGs?: An Empirical Legal Research” for consideration by Jurisdictie: Jurnal Hukum dan Syariah.

We confirm that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere, nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere.

In this paper, we show that the Islamic philanthropy institutions in Indonesia has important role in achieving SDGs according to article 3 [b] Presidential Regulation 111/2022. This is significant because this paper explore more deeply the exsistent of Islamic philanthropy institution can achieve SDGs viewed in the term of planning, implementation of program, monitoring and evaluation.

We believe that this manuscript is appropriate for publication by Jurisdictie: Jurnal Hukum dan Syariah because it related with the amis and scope of this journal focusing exploring empirical legal research on SDGs by Islamic philanthropy institutions in Indonesia.

As a novelty, this research that focuses on examining the role of Islamic philanthropic institutions in achieving SGD's is still rare, especially from a legal perspective. This research will fill the research gap by analyzing the role that philanthropic institutions have played in achieving SDGs in terms of applicable regulations. This research is expected to be a reference (cited) for researchers who focus on the topic of Islamic philanthropic institutions and the achievement of SDGs from a legal aspect.

We have no conflicts of interest to disclose.

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Syamsuri, M.Sh
